d. As a result of tests conducted at [REDACTED] regarding anti-tank grenades, [REDACTED] submitted graphic charts which will give to the user complete instructions without the necessity of written material. The charts were excellently drawn and were received by [REDACTED] of the Office of Logistics with complete satisfaction. Because of the high priority placed on this project and through the co-operation of Supply & Services Section/TR, we were able to have 1,050 copies of the charts printed. These were delivered to [REDACTED] on Monday, 11 February.

overseas EE area, but since he received a rating of "poor" in the CMT phase of the OFC, the EE Division was reluctant to accept him. During the meeting it became apparant there is a policy matter involved here which is much greater than the training evaluation, and EE Division is to resolve this with C/EE and Acting Chief/FI prior to making any requests for additional training for the particular individual.

III. PERSONNEL NOTES

a. DC/OS interviewed [REDACTED], a former senior instructor [REDACTED] on Wednesday, 6 February. Arrangements were made for him to be interviewed at [REDACTED] by AF/OS, and AF/OS advised they have some reservations concerning him but hope to resolve these by the time [REDACTED] completes his home leave.

b. On Wednesday, 6 February, DC/OS interviewed [REDACTED] who was formerly assigned [REDACTED]. His file was referred to AF/OS as a possibility for the future replacement of [REDACTED]. D/AF/OS advised they have no need for a man with his qualifications at the present time.
